1. Familiar Ornamen

Harappan Artifact	21st Century Familiarity
Bangles (Clay, Faience, Metal)	Women still wear bangles made of glass, gold, metal, or plastic as a vital part of daily wear and festivals.
Beaded Necklaces (Carnelian, Steatite)	Beaded jewelry, chokers, and multi-layered stone necklaces remain highly fashionable today.
Ear Studs & Rings	Simple circular clay or gold studs found in excavations look exactly like modern daily-wear earrings.
Amulets & Waist Bands (Girdles)	Worn around the waist or arms, very similar to modern Kamarbandh (waist chains) and protection threads (Tawiz).

2. Familiar Gestures & Postures

Harappan Artifact / Figure	21st Century Familiarity
Namaste Terracotta Figurine	A small clay figurine found with hands folded together. This remains India's most universal greeting today.
Pashupati Seal (Yogic Posture)	A seated figure in Padmasana (cross-legged yoga pose) with hands resting on knees, widely practiced today.
Dancing Girl (Hand on Hip Pose)	The bronze statue stands with one arm resting confidently on her hip, a standard pose in classical dances like Bharatanatyam and Odissi.

Tips to Make Your Scrapbook/Chart Stand Out:

1. Draw or Print Images: Cut out pictures of the Dancing Girl, the Priest-King's armband, and the Namaste Figurine.
2. Side-by-Side Comparison: Paste the historical artifact picture on the left and a photo cut-out from a modern festival/fashion magazine on the right to visually showcase the 5,000-year continuity!
